DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings were received on 11/15/2004. These drawings are accepted.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments filed 11/15/2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

The Applicant contends, "In the Office Action, claims 3, 12, and 19 were rejected under 35 U.S.C. j 1 12, first paragraph, as allegedly failing to comply with the enablement requirement in that the phrase "the inserted zeroes comprise an equivalent time varying convolution code" is not described in the specification. Applicants respectfully disagree and note that the Patent Application describes a 'zero code' comprising an equivalent time varying convolutional code at least in lines 1-5 on page 13 of the specification".

The Examiner disagrees and asserts that nowhere in lines 1-5 on page 13 of the specification does the specification say "a 'zero code' comprising an equivalent time varying convolutional code", but instead says "matrix, the 'zero code' of the present invention is similar to a time varying code".

The Applicant contends, "However, Kato does not describe or suggest periodically inserting known symbols into a digital input data sequence". In addition the Applicant acknowledges that Kato teaches that the plurality of bits “may be inserted concentratedly or distributively. See Kato, col. 4, 11. 7- 16 and Figures 5A-B”. Periodic insertion within a code word is a form of distributive insertion and is encompassed by distributive insertion. Furthermore; the teachings in Kato require no structural changes in order to accommodate a specific embodiment of periodic insertion within a codeword for which the invention in Kato is designed and the invention in Kato is inherently capable of periodic insertion within a codeword (See, e.g., In re Schreiber, 128 F.3d 1473, 1477, 44 USPQ2d 1429, 1431 (Fed. Cir. 1997) and In re Swinehart, 439 F.2d 210, 212-13, 169 USPQ 226, 228-29 (CCPA 1971)). The Examiner would like to point out that across a message comprising codewords, e.g., the 14-bit codewords in Figures 5A-B, extra bits are inserted in the same location for each codeword; hence are periodically inserted across codewords.

The Examiner disagrees with the applicant and maintains all rejections of claims 1-22. All amendments and arguments by the applicant have been considered. It is the Examiner's conclusion that claims 1-22 are not patentably distinct or non-obvious over the prior art of record in view of the references, Kato; Osamu et al. (US 5436918 A, hereafter referred to as Kato) and Wicker (Stephen B. Wicker, Error Control Systems for Digital Communication and Storage, Prentice-Hall, Pages 264-273) as applied in the last office action, filed 08/12/2004. Therefore, the rejection is maintained.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kato;

Osamu et al. (US 5436918 A, hereafter referred to as Kato).

See the Non-Final Action filed 08/12/2004 for detailed action of prior rejections.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
 2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
 3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
 4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.
4. Claims 17-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kato; Osamu et al. (US 5436918 A, hereafter referred to as Kato) in view of Wicker

(Stephen B. Wicker, Error Control Systems for Digital Communication and Storage, Prentice-Hall, Pages 264-273).

See the Non-Final Action filed 08/12/2004 for detailed action of prior rejections.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
